

Behavior Analyst

The Hope Institute for Children and Families, a nationally recognized private educational, residential, health and wellness, research and training organization is seeking candidates for the position of Behavioral Analyst.

Qualifications:

- Master's degree in applied behavior analysis or Master's degree in related discipline w/behavior analysis emphasis.
- Experience or specialized knowledge in one or more of the following: Developmental Disabilities; Autism Spectrum Disorders; Mental Retardation. Knowledge of psychopharmacology and/or Mental Health issues also helpful.
- Ability to communicate clearly and effectively in a professional manner
- Successful background check, physical and drug screen

Standard of Performance:

The Behavior Analyst is responsible for behavioral assessments, functional analyses, behavior program design and development (based upon ABA principles), data tracking and analyses, and ongoing monitoring of programs for individual youths. Development and implementation of staff training procedures on a regular basis is expected, as is participation in multidisciplinary team meetings. The goal is to be able to assist the youth, and assist the staff who works directly with the youth, in using appropriate behavioral and clinical techniques so that youth may achieve targeted objectives and grow towards reaching their highest potential.

Salary competitive and commensurate with education and experience. Excellent benefits including paid vacation, personal and holidays; 401K; health, disability and life insurance.

THICF is located in Springfield, Illinois (pop of 150,000) which is within 3 hours of Chicago, and Indianapolis and 1 ½ hrs from St. Louis. Rich recreational and cultural opportunities are available. Take a virtual tour at www.thehopeinstitute.us.

Submit a current resume to or apply in person at:

The Hope Institute for Children & Families
Human Resources, DS
15 East Hazel Dell Lane
Springfield, Illinois 62712